Revelation: There was suddenly silence

Clanxit, clangerent, clangent = sound forth, or resound, or burst aloud with sound

1 - 8 There was suddenly silence in heaven

And I saw those seven angels who were standing in the sight of God, to whom were given seven trumpets, and the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared to sound forth.

11 - 16 So the first angel sounded forth, and there was hail and fire mixed with blood, and it was projected onto the earth, and a third of the trees and all the green grass was consumed.

18 - 27 Then the second angel sounded forth, and it was as if a huge volcano burning with fire was projected into the sea, and a third of the sea turned into blood.

And a third of the creatures that were in the sea died, I mean the living creatures, and a third of the ships were lost.

29 - 39 Then the third angel sounded forth, and a great star fell out of the sky, burning like a torch, and it fell into a third of the rivers and the fountains of the waters.

The name of the star was called Absinthium: so a third of the waters turned into absinthium, and many men died from the waters because they had become bitter.

41 - 49 Then the fourth angel sounded forth, and a third of the sun was struck, and a third of the moon and a third of the stars, with the result that a third part of them went dark, and there was no light for a third of the day, and similarly the night.

50 - 61 And I saw and heard one angel flying through the mid heaven, crying out loudly

Woe, woe, woe to the inhabitants of earth, from the sounds of the trumpet of those three remaining angels who will sound forth.
